NAUW NATIONAL HISTORY

(NESC) The College Alumnae Club was formed in March 1910, by Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, Dr. Sara Brown, Dr. Nancy Fairfax Brown, and Miss Mary Cromwell in Washington, DC. Twenty university graduates joined elected officers and planned a program. The new Club desired to stimulate young women to attain professional excellence, to exert influence in various movements for the civic good, and to promote a close personal and intellectual fellowship among professional women.

In 1919 the Club invited the first group of university graduates, who lived outside the District, to organize. Baltimore accepted the invitation. Through the efforts of the College Alumnae Club, seven branches were organized in cities where college women desired affiliation with the founding group.

On April 6-7, 1923 representatives of the newly organized branches met in Washington, D.C. to consider the foundation of a national organization. A temporary National Association of College Women was formed. It was at the next conference on April 25-26, 1924 that the permanent organization was established and in November of that year, it was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia.

On August 9, 1974, at the biennial convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, the Association accepted its updated Charter and became known as the National Association of University Women (NAUW). The Association from its inception is a service and educational organization. In the beginning, the women of NAUW were proactive regarding the education of women, their living conditions on campuses, the need for a dean of women who would be an advocate for women students, and the training of teachers. As the years progressed, the organization raised its voice regarding major civic and national issues such as business opportunities for African Americans, mental health and child welfare, and the improvement of interracial and international relations.

The Association has cooperated with national and local social and economic programs and is affiliated with the National Council of Negro Women, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, United Negro College Fund, the National Coalition for Literacy, and the American Council on Education.

Twenty-four women have served as National Presidents and are known as Forever Emeralds:

- Dean Lucy D. Slowe (1924-1929)
- Mrs. Juanita H. Thomas (1929-1933)
- Mrs. Vivian J. Cook (1933-1936)
- Mrs. Helen B. Grosley (1936-1939)

NAUW NORTHEAST SECTIONAL HISTORY

In March 1920, Sara Winifred Brown, Nancy Fairfax Brown, Mary Elizabeth Cromwell, and Mary Eliza Church discussed starting an alumnae club for college women graduates; their "dream" resulted in the establishment of the College Alumnae Club in Washington D.C. The membership grew over the years and in 1919 it became necessary to ask women from other geographic regions to start another club beyond the Washington, DC area. Baltimore answered the call.

Four years later, one of the founders, Mary Elizabeth Cromwell, recommended moving beyond the local area to become a national organization. In 1924, the Club expanded to become a national organization called the National Association of College Women. Immediately, it was recognized that regions needed to be established to meet the members' needs in the various geographic areas. From that time until 1938 the East Region encompassed Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and New York. The North Region encompassed New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Washington, DC, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

It was approximately in 1939 that this region became the Northeast Section as it is known today. An exact date of when the region became the Northeast Section cannot be ascertained because journals were not on file for 1938, 1939, and 1940. In the 1941 Journal, it was noted that this Section was combined with the east and north regions. The Northeast Section now encompasses Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Washington DC. Today there are 15 branches in the Northeast Section. Also, from 2012 through 2014, the Harper-Maryland County Liberia Branch (first International Branch) functioned under the auspices of the Northeast Section.

This region is proud to be called the "historic" Section of the organization since it all began in Washington, D.C. The organization is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia with its national headquarters also located in the District. The Northeast Section also boasts about its rich history of having the most national presidents in the organization. To date, there have been twelve presidents out of the twenty-six from this section. Dr. Hilda A. Davis, from the Wilmington Branch, is the only president to serve two nonconsecutive terms. In addition, it was this section (Philadelphia Branch) that hosted the Jubilee Convention where the original charter was updated, and the National Association of College Women became known as the National Association of University Women.

Twenty-four dedicated women have served as sectional directors: Pansy Borders (1939-1941), Effie Simmons (1941-1946), C. Gwendolyn Redding (1946-1948), Muriel Alexander (1948-1952), Willie L. Churchill (1952-1959), Lucinda Fox Ward (1959-1961), Thelma Robinson (1961-1965), Lillian R. Bailey (1965-1968), Rhebena T. Castleberry (1968-1971), Ida L. Bell (1971-1975), Lillian Ross (1975-1979), Leomae R. Good (1979-1981), C. Gwendolyn Colvin (1981-1985), Phyllis J. Eggleston (1985-1989), Eva Phoenix (1989-1993), Dr. Lenore R. Gall (1993-1996), Thelma W. Taylor (1996-1999), Dolores Y. Owens (1999-2004), Rosalind Clarke (2004-2009), Pauline A. Chandler (2009-2013), and Ann Glover Lingham (2013-2017), Cynthia Johnson (2017-2018), Elva Brooks (2018-2021) and Deborah Thurmond (2021-present).

I extend warmest greetings to you my sisters of the Northeast Section of the National Association of University Women as you prepare to celebrate and actively participate in the 72nd Annual Sectional Conference. Over 122 years ago, four visionary leaders came together to form this great organization with the thought of giving back to their community.

As your National/International President, it is my honor to greet you on this occasion. The ongoing lingering effects of the National Pandemic continues to put a damper on how we would meet, however, we have remained strong during this past year. Across the United States and Liberia, Africa during this year, branches celebrated with a variety of programs, special events and Rededication Ceremonies via a virtual platform. God has truly blessed each of us so that we could continue our commitment to our beloved organization and your willingness to continue the mission of our Founders. I am hopeful that these virtual gatherings will provide each of you with an energetic spirit, a renewed commitment and restore the meaning, the purpose and value of this great organization within each of you.

This conference was designed for you, the leaders and members of the Northeast Section to engage in and reinstitute into your respective branches. As leaders, we set the tone for the success that each of our branches are achieving. This weekend will be filled with lots of learning, lifting and sisterly love. At the close of this weekend, it is my sincere hope that you have a renewed spirit for the future of the Northeast Section of the National Association of University Women.

I would like to render a special 'thank you' to Director Deborah Thurmond, who has successfully led the Northeast Section in the midst of the pandemic with professionalism. You kept the light shining while it was in your hand. Also, I want to thank Dr. Natasha Patterson, President of the Suburban Philadelphia Branch and her members for taking on the challenge of providing a successful conference via this virtual platform. On this day, I pray that each of you will unite in one unbreakable bond and continue to commit to the communities you now serve.

Greetings my NAUW Sisters,

It is indeed an honor and a pleasure to extend sisterly greetings and best wishes to each of you as we convene for our 72nd Northeast Sectional Conference. I would like to extend a special welcome to our first-time conference attendees.

Congratulations to Dr. Natasha Patterson, president of the Suburban Philadelphia Branch, and the branch members for your dedication and support in the preparation of this conference. You have worked diligently to make this event a positive and uplifting experience. I commend you for the time and effort put forth to bring this conference to full fruition.

Our conference theme “Building A Stronger Community Through Education, Outreach, and Advocacy” exemplifies the goals and aspirations of our members as we continue to embody the ideals and purposes set forth by our founders.

This gathering is a time for us to conduct the business of the National Association of University Women, Inc., celebrate achievements, and further the objectives of NAUW. I hope that you will leave this conference enlightened, energized, and ready to support the communities we serve.

Thank you for your unwavering service and support to NAUW. Eternally grateful for the service and the sisterhood. Let us continue to be a symbol of “Visionary Women Serving in Unity and Love.”

Sisterly Regards,

My Dynamic Sisters of the Northeast,

It is indeed an honor and privilege to extend a warm welcome on our 72nd Northeast Section Annual Conference. The Covid-19 Pandemic has challenged the way the Northeast convenes as a body. However, branches have remained resilient and steadfast in continuous implementation of our National Five-Point Program Initiatives. This commitment shows how the Northeast Section continues to be community trailblazers.

Our Sectional Director, Deborah Thurmond, and Suburban Philadelphia Immediate Past Branch President and Conference Chairperson, Dr. Natasha Patterson have worked meticulously to prepare a conference that will inform and inspire you to refocus on the mission of NAUW.

As we meet virtually this year, let us prepare to receive essential information on our section and most importantly, let us also prepare to greet each other with “emerald kisses and virtual hugs.” This pandemic will not suppress our “Historic Northeast Section Sisterhood.” We hope that you will leave our conference with a renewed commitment to NAUW and embrace the goals our founders envisioned.

Thank you to the Suburban Philadelphia Branch for your outstanding leadership and execution in hosting this event.

Sisterly,

Greeting NAUW Sisters,

It is a pleasure and honor for me to greet each of you as the President of the Suburban Philadelphia Branch of the National Association of University Women, Inc., which is your Host Branch for our virtual 72nd Northeast Sectional Conference. This year's conference theme is "Building a Stronger Community Through Education, Outreach, and Advocacy."

As each of our branches continued to pivot during these unprecedented times, the work of community service, outreach, and advocacy has never been more important than now. We must continue to inspire change locally and nationally as we continue to build a stronger community.

I would like to give a special thank you to the Northeast Sectional Conference committee for putting together what I believe will be an amazing conference that will leave us energized, encouraged, and recommitted to the service of this prestigious organization.

"Without service, we would not have a strong quality of life. It's important to the person who serves as well as the recipient. It's the way in which we ourselves grow and develop."

Greetings,

To our Sectional Director, Deborah Thurmond; Lay Member, Kisha Clinton; Suburban Philadelphia Branch President, Tonyelle Cook-Artis, it is with excitement that I share warm greetings with you and my NAUW sisters in the Northeast Section and our guests.

I would like to thank Deborah Thurmond, Northeast Sectional Director, for her guidance as we prepared for the conference. I would also like to thank Kisha Clinton, Lay Member, for her assistance and Toneylle Cook-Artis, Suburban Philadelphia Branch President, Dr. Adriene Hobdy, 1st Vice President, Krystal Caraballo, 2nd Vice President for their leadership and passion. While we are virtual, we remain close in mission and vision. Despite the challenges over the past two plus years, we have not wavered in our service to our communities. This opportunity to join together should not be taken lightly.

The Suburban Philadelphia Branch put forward great effort to produce an excellent 72nd Northeast Sectional Conference, virtually. A great deal of thought went into every aspect of the days ahead to ensure that it is a memorable conference from which you will walk away with valuable information and meaningful connections.

As we welcome our new National President, Betty Wilkerson, we look forward to the fellowship, celebration, and inspiration to be "Visionary Women Serving in Unity and Love."

MISTRESS OF CEREMONY
October 14, 2022

Elleanor Jean Hendley Charter Member, Suburban Philadelphia Branch

Elleanor Jean Hendley is a pioneer among women of color on television in Philadelphia. She was the first and still only African American woman in the city to host and produce a primetime weekend magazine show, City Lights, an Emmy Award-winning show broadcast for ten years on CBS 3 TV. Hendley also served as the Eyewitness News education reporter and the Director of Public Affairs. Previously, she was a New Jersey public school educator.

In 1985, while working fulltime in television, Ms. Hendley founded Teenshop, Inc., a nonprofit weekend college preparatory and life skills program for girls of color. Teenshop has grown to three chapters in three states – Pennsylvania (Philadelphia); California (Los Angeles); New Jersey (Camden), each one directed by a five member volunteer leadership team of exceptional career women, several of whom are Teenshop alumnae.

The success of Teenshop was the catalyst for Girls Achieve®, which Ms. Hendley created in 2005 in response to educators' requests for an in-school enrichment program. Girls Achieve®, a series of life skills and curriculum-support workshops, has empowered hundreds of girls in public and charter schools in the School District of Philadelphia and suburban counties

To expand her outreach to girls, Ms. Hendley wrote the Girls Achieve Activity Book® for students ages 9-14. The book has more than 120 pages of gender-specific educational and empowering activities, and is an excellent resource for classrooms, after school programs, summer camps, and a great gift for any occasion.

Ms. Hendley is a graduate of Ohio's Central State University and attended the Sorbonne in Paris, France. She resides in the Philadelphia suburbs and is a jazz piano student, avid doll collector, accomplished seamstress, and world traveler.

Active in civic and community affairs, Ms. Hendley's memberships include: Charter Member of the National Association of University Women of Suburban Philadelphia, member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, The Links, Inc., and Charter Member of the PA Coalition of 100 Black Women.

Carla Boone Hinds

North Jersey Branch

Carla Boone Hinds was born in New Bern, North Carolina to the Late William and Estelle Boone; the oldest of three children. It was mandatory in this home that church and education be top priorities.

Carla was educated in the public schools of New Bern. It was there where her thirst of knowledge became evident. It was from there she attended and graduated from Friendship Jr. College in Rock Hill, South Carolina with an Associate's degree in Psychology and Music. From there she attended Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, North Carolina and received a Bachelor's degree in English and Psychology. Still longing to continue her education she enrolled in the Library Science program at North Carolina Central University in Durham, North Carolina where she obtained a Master's in Library Science. In 2003 Carla also obtained another Master's in Education. She is currently working on her Doctorate in Educational Leadership.

In terms of community, Carla is a member of St. Luke AME Church in Newark, NJ where she serves as a member of Steward Board, Treasurer of the Women's Missionary Society, a member of the North Carolina Club and a member of the Department of Christian Education. Her love is working with the young people and training them to become leaders. She is a 46-year member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. She serves on the Executive Committee of the NAACP (Oranges and Maplewood). She is a 18 -year member of the National Association of University Women (North Jersey Branch), where she is the current President and the treasurer for the Northeast Section. She is also the National Literacy Chairperson for our beloved NAUW and therefore serves on the Board of Directors.

Carla is a recently retired teacher of English for the East Orange School District. Determined to continue on as an education advocate even in retirement, she joined the Essex County Retirees Education Association, NJ Retirees EA, NJ Association of Black Educators and the National Education Retirees.

Second only to God is her son, Timothy who truly is the joy of her life. Her commitment to God, family and community is what gives her extreme happiness. She believes firmly: "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me"

Lauren Cristella

President, League of Women Voters of Philadelphia

It was Lauren's passion for active citizenship, strong public leadership and practical policy-making that led her to Broad Street and the organization that shares her dedication. As the Chief Program Officer of the Committee of Seventy, Lauren is responsible for board development, external affairs, the Buchholz Fellowship Program, and programming, including the WeVote initiative. Lauren also serves as the President of the League of Women Voters of Philadelphia, where she is focused on rebuilding the organization and equipping volunteers to have a positive impact on elections at the grassroots level.

Additionally, Lauren serves on the Board of the Forum of Executive Women as Chair of the Public Sector Leadership Committee.

Prior to joining C70, Lauren was the Director of Student Affairs & Strategic Operations at Penn's Fels Institute of Government. She spent seven years ensuring that students had excellent internships and job prospects in government, nonprofits, and private firms that serve the public interest. She also secured a number of record-breaking gifts to Fels, in addition to overseeing dozens of events each year and general operations.

Before joining Fels, Lauren spent five fun years at the National Constitution Center. During her tenure there, Lauren worked in the education department, where she first began to wish that people would celebrate Constitution Day (September 17th) without being legally obligated to do so. She later joined the Center's senior management team as the Director of Special Projects for the CEO. In that position, Lauren led the team that created the Center's blog, Constitution Daily, and facilitated the creation and adoption of a new five- year strategic plan. Lauren was also a member of the Center's international team, which was responsible for the creation of the Being We the People exhibition and website, as well as a guide to voting in national elections for Afghan citizens, created in partnership with the United Nations Development Programme. Lauren received her bachelor's degree from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., where she majored in politics, and interned at the International Center for Terrorism Studies. She went on to receive her master's degree from the University of Essex in Colchester, England in Ethics, Politics and Public Policy.

Family Services of Montgomery County (PA)

Our mission is to empower individuals, children and families to reach their full potential. Family Services, as it exists today, was formed by the merger of three smaller Montgomery County-based nonprofit organizations: Family Service Association of Pottstown, the Lower Montgomery Family Service Society, and Family Service of the Main Line. The earliest of these organizations was founded in 1900 by concerned citizens who wanted to help individuals and families who were experiencing difficulties in everyday living. Throughout our history, Family Services' programs and services have evolved to meet the ever-changing needs of the community.

Alissa McBride

Alissa McBride is the Director of Reentry Services at Family Services of Montgomery County. She earned a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology from the University of Michigan and a Master's Degree in Social Work from Tulane University. In her 22 years at Family Services, Alissa has devoted 13 of them to assisting individuals successfully return to their families and communities following incarceration.

Tanesha Outterbridge

Tanesha Outterbridge is the Director of Community-Based Projects at Family Services of Montgomery County. In her 7 years with Family Services, Tanesha has devoted her efforts to youth engagement, sustaining local community coalition efforts, providing resources and support to parents and youth, and overseeing case management services for the Montgomery County District Attorney's youth diversionary program. Tanesha earned a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from Old Dominion University and a Master of Education from Temple University.

Dr. Shawn Blue

Licensed Psychologist and Clinical Associate Professor at Thomas Jefferson University

Shawn Blue, Psy.D., is a licensed psychologist and Clinical Associate Professor at Thomas Jefferson University. She is a staff psychologist in the Student Counseling Center as well as Outreach Coordinator overseeing all workshops and programs offered by the Counseling Center. In addition to her faculty status at Jefferson, she carries a clinical caseload including the university's health professional students and House Staff as well as a small private practice caseload of clients. Dr. Blue conducts individual, couples and group therapy and has specializations in trauma, eating disorders and energy psychology. She has particular interests in interpersonal relationships and wellness programming. Dr. Blue received a Diplomate in Comprehensive Energy Psychology (DCEP) credentialing in 2017 which integrates her interests in mind/body health, energy work and wellness interventions. In addition to her work at Thomas Jefferson University, she has extensive work in the area of campus mental health, including Agnes Scott College, Emory University, Vanderbilt University, Princeton University and Westminster Choir College of Rider University. Dr. Blue supervises psychiatric residents and teaches courses on Diversity, Trauma and Psychological Assessment in the Sydney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University. She also adjunct teaches at Chestnut Hill College, where she alternates between teaching Career Counseling and Psychological Assessment. At Jefferson, she serves on two suicide prevention grant initiatives and also serves as the department's diversity, equity and inclusion chair.

Dr. Blue has written several scholarly works. She has co-authored several chapters on topics including the psychoanalytic perspective of Martin Luther King, Jr., divorce, violence and the sexual abuse of children. In 2017, she authored a book on grief and romantic relationship dissolution which was published by Lexington Books. Dr. Blue self-published a companion workbook to accompany her book and has created audio imagery scripts to assist individuals who are experiencing grief from a breakup or divorce. In 2020, Dr. Blue authored a book entitled, "The psychology of modern dating: Websites, apps and relationships."

Dr. Blue is a member of several professional organizations, including the American Psychological Association, the Pennsylvania Psychological Association, the Association of Black Psychologists, the Philadelphia Society of Clinical Psychologists and the Association for Comprehensive Energy Psychology. She is also currently a board member and executive officer for the Association of University and College Counseling Center Outreach (AUCCCO). Dr. Blue is certified in Energy Psychology and is very passionate about mind/body health. Dr. Blue is a very active member of the Philadelphia Society of Clinical Psychologists and has served as chair of the Programming Committee, as well as a member of the Continuing Education and Diversity Committees. Finally, Dr. Blue served on the organization's Board for three years.

Finally, Dr. Blue is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. and is currently president of the Delaware Valley (PA) Chapter of the Links, Inc.
